To whom it may concern,

We recently had Kerryn Redpath attend one of our Chapel services and share her story with our Secondary students. Kerryn spoke about her battle with alcohol and drug addiction as a young adult.

Kerryn's presentation was very informative in terms of the information given to the students. It was also very impacting because of the personal life experience that Kerryn was able to share with them. Kerryn did not glorify drug use in any way and spoke candidly about the impact that illicit drugs had on her life and the lives of those close to her.

The feedback from both staff and students relating to Kerryn's presentation was excellent. One senior student said to me that he already knew much of the information that Kerryn shared, however hearing from someone's first-hand experience made this information much more meaningful to him.

I would be very confident to recommend Kerryn as a speaker on the issue of illicit drug use. Her message is both educational in terms of the information given about the effects of illicit drugs and also very touching in terms of the human cost associated with drug use.

Please feel free to contact me if you would like additional information.

Sincerely,
